

207 MASONS AT ANNUAL DINNER HEAR PLEA FOR FAITH IN GOD

"Masons demonstrate their faith in God by their ritual, constructed on the Bible story of King Solomon's leadership of the Jewish people in building a temple for the worship of Jehovah.

"The American commonwealth has as its basis a fine faith in Almighty God.

"Columbus demonstrated his faith in God when he discovered the new world. His first act when he stepped on the new land was to fall on his knees, give thanks for deliverance and dedicate the new land to God.

"Balboa demonstrated his faith by dedicating all the shores of the newly discovered Pacific to God.

"The Cavaliers who founded Jamestown demonstrated their faith, also. One of the first buildings they erected was a church, the ruins of which still stand.

"The settlers of Pennsylvania were pious Germans and Scotch-Irish and they, too, demonstrated their faith in God. The devout Catholics who settled in Maryland and the devout Dutch who settled in New York, and the Huguenots who settled in North Carolina, all demonstrated equal faith in God.

"These declarations were made by the Rev. Dr. Ira Sankey Ernst, of Washington, former United Brethren pastor of the Biglerville, Centre Mills, Cashtown, Mt. Carmel and Mt. Hope charge, in an address before the annual St. John's Day banquet of Good Samaritan Lodge, of Gettysburg, Monday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg.

"In God We Trust"

The theme of his address was "In God We Trust" and he cited a number of instances to support the cause that "God ranks Supreme and that in God lies the salvation of mankind."

"A minister is a person who serves his country by serving his God," said the Rev. Dr. Ernst. "I like this interpretation because it suggests the very essence of Americanism, a proper relationship between God and country."

"The essence of Americanism is not revolution, but the recognition of the sacredness of human personality, the recognition of inherent and inalienable rights which every man possesses, independently of the state. That is why, when our country began, our founding fathers were most anxious to find some basis for human rights, some foundation for human liberties, some guarantee of human personality, which would be above the encroachment of tyranny and abuse.

"Turned to the Master

"But where find the basis for the right of man to be his own master, captain of his own soul? They turned to England and to France and rejected both prospects and theories.

"The answer the founding fathers gave was the right one. They sought the foundation of man's rights and liberties in something

BETTER TODAY

Marked improvement was shown today in the conditions of Mrs. Marian Carey and her two sons, George and Carl, Jr., at the Warner hospital where they have been patients since the car in which they were riding Monday morning was struck by a Western Maryland locomotive on the Cold Springs road crossing, near their home, two miles west of Orttanna.

Mrs. Carey and the two young children, George, 6, and Carl, Jr., 3, were thrown to the side of the tracks when an east-bound train struck their stalled auto. Janet Carey, aged nine, only other occupant of the car, escaped from the car before the collision.

The smashed car was carried for 500 feet by the locomotive. Railroad authorities investigated the crash and Monday afternoon Private George Ackerson, of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police, opened another probe. None of the investigators has yet questioned Engineer A. L. Miner and Fireman D. B. Grove about their version of the accident.

X-ray examinations at the hospital have shown that both Mrs. Carey and Carl, Jr., have skull fractures. Mrs. Carey also suffered fractures of several bones in her face and feet. Her right shoulder was dislocated. The examinations did not indicate a skull fracture for George although it was feared at first that he had serious head injuries.

FBI Captures 5 Touhy Gangsters And Kills 2

Chicago, Dec. 29 (AP)—All seven of the "terrible" Touhy long term gangsters who shot their way to freedom from Stateville penitentiary at Joliet, Ill., October 9, have been accounted for with the slaying of two of them and the capture of the other five, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover announced today.

Roger Touhy, the gang chief, and Basil (the Owl) Banghart, his lieutenant—who had been described as savagely desperate men—were captured this morning in an apartment at 5116 Kenmore avenue, on the north side. With them was Edward Darlak, 32, serving 199 years imprisonment for the murder of a policeman.

Shortly before this raid—which was led personally by Hoover—the agents shot dead James O'Connor, 35, and St. Clair McInerney, 31, as they tried to resist arrest in an apartment at 1256 Leland avenue.

Hoover announced that their companions in the Stateville break had been seized earlier. Mathew Nelson, 40, was picked up December 16 in Minneapolis and William Stewart, 43, was seized December 19 in Chicago.

In the apartment where Touhy, Banghart and Darlak were nabbed, agents found $13,533.27 in cash, but Hoover said it had not been determined immediately whence this

WORLD COUNCIL POST-WAR AIM

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—Vice President Wallace's proposal for a world council after the war to direct a planned global economy was viewed in some congressional quarters today as possibly a "trial balloon" for President Roosevelt's address to Congress on Jan. 7.

Wallace, who was known to have consulted with the President while preparing his speech, said in a broadcast commemorating the birthday of Woodrow Wilson last night that the new freedom for which Wilson fought was "the forerunner of the Roosevelt New Deal of 1933 and of the worldwide new democracy which is the goal of the United Nations in this present struggle."

Also Gain On 300-Mile Front

(By The Associated Press)

Adolf Hitler's cry for "living space" echoed with terrible urgency for 22 German divisions on the Soviet front today as the Russians stormed within three miles of Kotelnikovsky, 90 miles southwest of Stalingrad, and thrust within 45 miles of a junction with Red Army troops driving across the middle Don steppes toward Rostov.

Dispatches said Kotelnikovsky, which served as a main base for the Nazi siege armies before Stalingrad, was now hemmed tightly on three sides, and the Soviet command announced:

"The enemy is sending special detachments to cover up the retreat of his troops."

Second Ring Forming

By closing the 45-mile gap between Kotelnikovsky and the middle Don, Col. Gen. Nikolai F. Valutin's legions would force a second ring of steel around the beleaguered Nazis.

Latest advices said the Red Army was driving ahead on a 300-mile front spreading fanwise from the Ukraine to a point deep in the windswept Kalmyk steppelands of the Caucasus.

Soviet troops were reported to have recaptured Kichino, 42 miles north of Elista, the Kalmyk capital.

Other Red Army columns were pictured as having advanced within 100 miles of Rostov, gateway to the Caucasus, after having virtually surrounded the German rail hub at Millerovo, 120 miles north of Rostov.

Attack Finnish Lines

Nazi quarters asserted vaguely that a Russian force "encircled" for several days in the Don river bend had been "routed" with heavy losses.

A Finnish communique said Red Army troops, ending a protracted lull on the far north front, had launched heavy attacks against Finnish lines between Lakes Ladoga and Onega, east of long-besieged Leningrad, but declared they had been repulsed.

Soviet headquarters said Hitler was throwing reinforcements into the middle Don region in a desperate attempt to check the Russian juggernaut, "but under the blows of our men they are suffering huge losses."

120,000 Nazis Killed or Captured

Front-line reports said the Germans had already lost more than 120,000 killed or captured in the flaming middle Don battle cauldron alone, and more than 21,000 others were listed as slain since December 12 in the drive toward Kotelnikovsky.

In the last four days, the Russians said, Soviet columns approaching Kotelnikovsky from three directions advanced from 37 to 53 miles, including gains of 13 to 15 miles in the climactic surge yesterday against the city's immediate defenses.

$5,000 DAMAGE TO TRUCK IN BRIDGE MISHAP

A New Cumberland trucker had a narrow escape from death this morning when the big truck tractor and trailer he was driving struck a bridge wall, leaped a stream and then pinned him in the icy, rising waters of Muddy run for more than two hours before he was rescued by two colored drivers of coal trucks who stopped to inspect the wreckage.

Donald Sipe, 42, New Cumberland, apparently dozed at the wheel of the big diesel-powered truck he was driving from Richmond to Harrisburg loaded with 8 tons of rayon. The right side of the tractor clipped the Muddy run bridge wall and then the big truck leaped 20 feet across the stream into a field of Edward Leer, three miles south of York Springs on the Harrisburg road.

The tractor turned on its side in the leap and when it struck the ground the heavily loaded trailer crushed the cab and tractor. Sipe was trapped as he attempted to jump clear of the cab. His legs were pinned in the wrecked cab and he sank into about 10 inches of water in Muddy run.

The mishap occurred about 2:30 o'clock but it was not until about 5 o'clock that colored truckers out of Baltimore pulled Sipe from the wreckage and away from the danger of drowning in the waters that were rising from continual showers. Not far from where the truck struck, the water was over four feet deep.

Private John M. Micka, of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police, investigated the accident. He estimated the damage to the 1942 model tractor at about $5,000. There was no damage to the cargo, he said, but all of the wheels under the tractor and trailer were ripped off in the accident. Wheels, tires and axles were scattered along the highway for a distance of 50 feet, the officer said.

Sipe escaped with bruises and a cut on the forehead. He was treated by a doctor at New Cumberland. Another truck was sent to the scene and the cargo was transferred to it.

so sacred, so inalienable that no state, no parliament, no dictator, no human power could ever take them away; and so they rooted them in God. Hence, our Declaration of Independence reads "all men . . . are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

"If human dignity and liberty come from God then it follows that loss of faith in Him means loss of those liberties which we derive from Him.

"If we are to keep our freedom we must keep our faith."

WORLD COUNCIL POST-WAR AIM

velt once said has a "rendezvous with destiny"—"he said, "is so to organize human affairs that no Adolf Hitler, no power-hungry war mongers, whatever their nationality, can ever again plunge the whole world into war and bloodshed."

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) promptly commented that the people of this country must put a stop to "bureaucracy and regimentation" or face the prospect of losing their democracy.

Some senators declared post-war program makers should be chary about drafting a detailed blueprint for the peace until they know what kind of governments and men they will have to deal with at the conference tables.

Wallace said that "obviously the United Nations must first have machinery which can disarm and keep disarmed those parts of the world which would break the peace."

Punish Guilty Leaders

He added that "we must make absolutely sure that the guilty leaders are punished, that the defeated nation realizes its defeat and is not permitted to rearm."

"The military disarmament will have to be backed up by psychological disarmament—supervision or at least inspection, of the school systems of Germany and Japan, to undo so far as possible the diabolical work of Hitler and the Japanese war lords in poisoning the minds of the young."

Also necessary, he said, was "machinery for preventing economic warfare. Probably there will have to be an international court . . ."

Without well-planned and vigorous economic reconstruction, he said, a series of economic storms would follow the war—"inflation and temporary scarcities, followed by surpluses, crashing prices, unemployment, bankruptcy and in some cases violent revolution."

U. S. Could Provide Guidance

He suggested that the United States could provide "guidance, technical advice and in some cases capital investment to help those nations which are just starting on the path of industrialization."

In opposition to what he called "high tariff, penny pinching, isolationist policies," Wallace proposed an exchange of "post-war surpluses for goods, for peace and for improving the standards of living of so-called backward peoples."

FBI CAPTURES

money came. Five revolvers, five sawed off shotguns and one 30-30 rifle, all loaded and plentifully supplied with ammunition, were confiscated.

Serving Long Terms

Detailing the criminal records of the gang at a press conference, Hoover said that all the fugitives except Nelson had remained in Chicago since they fled from prison.

Touhy and Banghart, serving 99 year terms each for the kidnaping of John (Jake the Barber) Factor, surrendered without a shot being fired. They came out of the apartment, with hands up and backs to the agents, Banghart first, Touhy second, Darlak last.

The mistake made by O'Connor and McInerney was their attempt to flee when FBI agents called on them to surrender in the Leland avenue flat. So well had the agents been planted that all escape for the pair was covered.

Elaborate Trap Used

One of the most elaborate traps ever laid was credited by Hoover with bringing about the mobsters' undoing. He praised the cooperation of Chicago police and said three assistant directors of the FBI helped in the coup. They were C. A. Tolan, E. J. Connelley, and Richard Glavin. One inspector, Myron Gurnea, and three special agents in charge were also in on the kill. The latter were Spencer Drayton, of Chicago; S. K. McKee, of the Washington division, and W. G. Bannister of the Oklahoma division.

Touhy, Banghart and Darlak were captured this morning in an apartment at 5116 Kenmore avenue without a shot being fired.

Floodlights Used

The FBI erected floodlights about the building to guard against any slipaway in the early morning darkness. Agents manned the roof of the building and others, heavily armed, were posted across the street.

A loudspeaker system was installed to call out orders to the hiding desperados.

At 5 a. m., the floodlights flashed on and the G-men called to Touhy, Banghart and Darlak:

"Come out through the front door. Come out backwards and with your hands up. Banghart, you come first."

For ten minutes, the agents, fingers on triggers, waited for a response.

Then the door opened and Banghart, hands overhead, backed cautiously through the door.

Agents reached out from their apartment door facing that of the gangsters, grabbed him and wheeled him into their apartment where he was manacled.

No Struggles

Next they called for Touhy to come out, and then Darlak. All surrendered without a struggle.

Touhy wore brilliant red pajamas and his black hair had been turned blond with peroxide. A bottle of peroxide was found in the flat.

The FBI had taken an apartment directly across the hall from the gang's in the

Major League Baseball Clubs Expected To Do Spring Training In "Back Yard"

OPENING OF SEASON MAY BE DELAYED

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Although all is chaos right now, indications are that the 16 major league baseball teams will do their 1943 spring conditioning within a home run's length of their own ball parks.

Boston's Red Sox already have announced that their sweating out process will be done at Tufts' university, at nearby Medford, probably the most northern point any major league club ever has used for a training site.

And it is likely the other clubs will follow suit.

Two rumors were rife in baseball circles today: 1-That ODT Director Joseph B. Eastman soon may issue a second order, definitely banning extended travel by the baseball clubs during the spring season; 2-That Commissioner K. M. Landis will call a joint major league meeting to study the situation.

Landis "On Train"

Landis couldn't be reached in Chicago, his home declaring only that he was "on a train" but refusing to give his destination.

William Harridge, president of the American league, also could not be reached but his Chicago office released a statement which said in part that "nothing can be done until the spring training programs are streamlined out. If the clubs believe they can train at home there's a possibility that the opening of the season (now set for April 13) may be delayed a couple of weeks."

Two requests from National league officials for prompt action in finding a way out of the quandary prompted President Ford Frick to say that "all clubs should work in unison and it would be a good idea to arrive at a conclusion as soon as possible."

Curtail Traveling

Much of the confusion has resulted from the various interpretations given ODT Director Eastman's previous request that the clubs curtail their spring traveling.

Ed Barrow of the New York Yankees said Saturday his club would train at home if other American league teams did likewise. He asked, however, that if training in the north were agreed upon, the opening of the season be delayed.

Following the Red Sox lead, it is known that the Brooklyn Dodgers are interested in Yale university's facilities if they are not taken over by the Army and that Detroit is considering the University of Michigan fieldhouse.

LOOKING AROUND

By DON BREAM
Sports Editor

Two county basketball teams are scheduled for action tonight. Ardentville vocational school will tangle with the alumni while the Franklin Township consolidated school dribblers will inaugurate their season by also meeting their alumni.

Coach George Forney will call back his Gettysburg high squad to resume drills on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons after a week's holiday layoff. The Maroons next game will be at Waynesboro Friday evening, January 8, when the Southern Pennsylvania Interscholastic league race will get underway.

Gettysburg college's courtmen, who open their season here next Wednesday evening against the New Cumberland Reception Center quintet, will have but two workouts prior to the game after more than two weeks of idleness. Coach "Hen" Bream has asked his lads to be present Monday for practice.

Several members of the Bullet squad will get a workout Friday night when they will play against Ensminger's team of Harrisburg as a preliminary to the Senators-Sphas professional game. Included in the lineup will be Cy Davis, Don Freedman, Tony Yovicsin and Russ Wileman.

As a parting shot at the football season this column picks the following as probable Bowl game victors on New Year's Day: Tennessee, Boston college, Georgia and Georgia Tech.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Further proof that the immediate future of sports depends on the three-letter men—O.D.T.—comes from the travel travails of the Toronto Maple Leafs went through to play a couple of week-end hockey games. . . . The saga involves a group of big-hearted pals who saved up gas to drive the players from Toronto to Welland, Ont., icy roads that caused them to miss the local train at Welland, and eventual arrival at Buffalo just in time to make a four a. m. train for New York, where they played Sunday night. . . . Maybe it was worth while—you should have heard those 15,000 New York fans when the Rangers finally beat the Leafs. . . . Then there's Coach Everett Shelton's explanation of why Wyoming is here to play basketball while Colorado had to call off its eastern trip: "Colorado applied for transportation and got turned down; we just got on a train and came."

JUST PLANE SCARED

Frank Kavanaugh, Cornell U. trainer, says he doesn't mind sitting on the bench with Football Coach Carl Snavely, who is apt to get excited at the crucial moments, but when it comes to riding in an airplane with him it's another matter. . . . While they were on a recent air trip, the pilot turned over the controls to Snavely. . . . "I was kind of scared," Kavanaugh confessed. "What if all of a sudden he thought up some football play? He would have forgotten what he was doing."

COURTING TROUBLE

While the N.C.A.A. "business" meeting tomorrow is supposed to be merely a routine affair, some difficulty may develop about the basketball rules. . . . Pointing out that his organization can't "freeze" the rules without the agreement of the high schools, Y.M.C.A. and other groups, Jim St. Clair of Southern Methodist, who heads the court committee, told New York writers yesterday: "I don't believe rules should be frozen if there are certain changes to be made." . . . Incidentally, the officials concerned won't say yes or no on whether they're even planning an N.C.A.A. basketball tournament next spring.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Gene Kemper, Topeka (Kas.) Capital: "No one is prepared to guess it will come out that way, but the decision of Uncle Sam to plant officer candidates in some 200 colleges may merely do some juggling of athletic talent. Here's hoping Washburn, Kansas and Kansas State get an overdose of big ten football players."

SERVICE DEPT.

Although "varsity" athletics at the Navy pre-flight schools are for cadets only nowadays, the North Carolina outfit will be allowed to use a few officers in its games at New York and Philadelphia. . . . And Coach Dyke Raese won't have much to worry about until Gus Broberg, the former Dartmouth ace, is graduated. . . . Sgt. Frank Strafaci, the golfer, sends word from down under: "These Aussies are bold in their play and more often than not get away with spectacular shots." . . . Maybe they've been taking lessons from MacArthur. . . . It could be just a coincidence, but a lot of the boxers entering Golden Gloves tournaments from the South Planes Army Flying school at Lubbock, Tex., have just finished their commando training.

CLEANING THE CUFF

Cleveland and Chicago may have grand circuit harness racing next season along with such smaller newcomers as Allentown and York, Pa., Trenton, N. J.—All after the Reading dates—Dugoin, Ill., and Hamburg, N. Y. . . . Steve O'Neill plans to be the first Tiger manager in years to spend the winter in Detroit.

HEADS WOMEN'S CLUBS

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—Election of Mrs. George R. Lamade, of Williamsport, Pa., as a vice president of the National Federation of Women's clubs was announced here following a postal ballot. Mrs. W. Glenn Suthers of Chicago was elected president. New officers will be inducted January 1 and will serve for two years. The federation's 1942 convention has been cancelled because of travel restrictions.

TIDE TACKLES CONFIDENT OF STOPPING B.C.

By JOHN WILDS

Miami, Fla., Dec. 29 (AP)—Alabama's tackles figure Boston Coach Denny Myers is going to make his ends bite off more than they can chew in the Orange Bowl football game Friday.

Myers drew some back talk from the big Bama linemen because of his prediction last week that Boston's T-formation attack would provide a spectacular show for the Miami crowd if the Boston college ends could handle the opposing tackles.

From the four top tide tackles came words today which seemed to spell a busy afternoon for the Boston flankmen.

"All year," remarked All-Southeastern Don Whitmire, "we've been playing against teams that used two men against a tackle without much success."

"I don't see how one man against a tackle is going to do any good."

"All you've got to do is to throw a fake at them," chimed in Leon Fichman.

Mitchell Olenksi said: "I don't believe one end can take any of us out. We'll give 'em a fit even if there are two against us."

Conservative Jack McKewen promised that "we'll be in there trying to stop 'em, anyway." The touted "T" holds no terrors for the stalwart youngster.

"We've never played against it," Whitmire remarked. "But we're not afraid of it. After all, if it were invincible, everybody would use it. Washington's Redskins stopped the Chicago Bears, didn't they?"

"I like the single wing, myself," put in McKewen.

Olenksi observed that many Boston plays are aimed at the tackles with pile-driving Mike Holovac carrying the ball.

"That's just where I want 'em to hit," he added.

34 FATALITIES IN STATE OVER XMAS WEEK-END

(By The Associated Press)

At least 34 persons died in Pennsylvania in accidents during the long Christmas week-end. Twelve were pedestrians struck by automobiles or other vehicles and automobile accidents accounted for seven additional deaths.

Eight persons lost their lives in fires or died of burns or suffocation. Five others were injured fatally in falls and one death was attributed to a coasting mishap. Miss Helen Keyser, 47, Philadelphia, choked to death on a bite of baked potato.

3 in Family Die

The worst tragedy claimed the lives of three Bloomsburg residents, including the president of town council, all of whom suffocated in their home from gases which authorities said came from the coal furnace. The victims were Councilman Clyde L. Ohi, 51, his daughter, Dorothy Ruth, 23, and his father, Boyd T., 83. On the same day Mrs. Carl Kinney, 19, Bloomsburg, died of gas poisoning attributed to fumes from an oil stove in her trailer home.

Pedestrians killed were Edward T. Jones, 69, Bangor; Mrs. James Freeman, 49, Donegal township, Westmoreland county; August Adams, 54, New Kensington; Harold Hansen, 50, Camden, New Jersey; Elmer S. Warwick, 48, Nemacolin; William Surville, 48; Kingston; Michael Marekovich, 54, East Pittsburgh, and Thomas Lutes, Greensburg, all struck by cars. Judith Nicholson, 2, Harrisburg, was crushed under a trackless trolley at Wyoming and Andrew Arson, 55, Pittsburgh, was killed by a street car.

The next-to-last surviving Civil war veteran in Lancaster county, William M. Doubts, 96, of Lancaster, was among those injured fatally in falls. Others were Leonard Boucks, 61, Pittsburgh; Frank Lenke, 80, Pittsburgh; Charles Dize, Sr., 63, Delphi, and William F. Weisser, 82, Reading.

The lone coasting victim was Jay Phelan, Guilser, 11, McKeesport.

Tireless George Sinkwich "Made" Georgia Grid Team

By ROMNEY WHEELER

AP Features

Athens, Ga.—Georgia will play in Pasadena's Rose Bowl New Year's day, because a tow-headed guy from Youngstown, O., was determined to be All-America—and did it.

This busy guy was (and is) Francis Frank Sinkwich, nicknamed "The Fireball," who won All-America recognition in 1941 as the nation's No. 1 ball-carrier, and who duplicated in 1942 by becoming a brilliant passer and establishing a new national record in yard-gaining with 2,187 yards total offense.

Georgia lost just one game—to Alabama—in 1941, and won a bid to Miami's Orange Bowl, where Sinkwich & Co. went to town with a 40-26 victory over Texas Christian University.

This season Georgia again lost just one—a 13-27 upset by under-rated Auburn—and accepted a Pacific Coast invitation to play in the Rose Bowl.

Busier And Busier

Sinkwich has been progressively busier and busier on the football field since he made his debut as a sophomore. In 1940 he didn't break into the starting lineup until mid-season—Wallace Butts theorizing it wouldn't be good for his ego to start too young—but he carried the ball 63 times for 373 yards in seven games and completed 21 out of 44 passes for 226 more—a total of 589 yards for the season. He averaged 85.5 yards per game in total offense, and 5.9 yards per carrying in rushing.

In 1941 he wheeled into action on all cylinders. Playing in 10 games, eight of them with a broken jaw held together with wire, he handled the ball 328 times. On 209 rushing attempts he gained a net of 1,103 yards to lead the nation, and completed 52 out of 115 passes for 713 more—and offensive average of 181.6 yards a game. His rushing average was 5.2 yards. He pitched 11 touchdown passes during the season, surpassing Dixie Howell's record, and scored 45 points himself—including a field goal against Florida, the first kicked by a Georgia player in 20 years.

He kicked four times, with an unimpressive average of 32.1 yards. This season, competing in 11 games, he handled the ball 367 times, adding kicking and signaling to his assignments, as well as running the team as field captain.

Scored 16 Touchdowns

Sinkwich scored 16 touchdowns to lead the Southeastern Conference with 96 points—47 more than his nearest rival—and pitched nine touchdown passes to teammates.

Busier than ever, he carried the ball 175 times for 795 yards; completed 84 out of 166 passes for 1,392 more; and kicked 26 times, averaging approximately 35 yards.

High mark of his career as football work-horse was the ill-starred

Auburn game. Georgia initiated 80 offensive plays, and Sinkwich ran, passed or kicked the ball on 72 of them.

Passing Improves

An indifferent passer when he came to Georgia, he improved steadily by tireless practice. As a sophomore he average 447 for completions; as a junior his average dipped slightly with the greater number of passes thrown, ranking him 14th in the nation at 452. This year he went as high as 523, and finished strong at 506 despite the Auburn mis-adventure.

His offensive average per game, for the 1942 season, touched the all-time high of 198.3 yards although his rushing average dipped to 4.5 per carry.

UCLA ENTERS BOWL GAME IN COCKY SPIRIT

By FRANK FRAWLEY

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 29 (AP)—UCLA's Bruins are coming up to the Rose Bowl game against Georgia cocky and confident and in their best physical condition of the year.

Coach Babe Horrell says he is well pleased with his squad has progressed in the past two weeks. He thinks Georgia is entitled to be the favorite on the basis of its record, admits the southerners' aerial game has him worried no end, but believes the Bruins will give a good account of themselves.

No amount of argument could convince the Bruins, that they don't have a better running attack than Georgia, flatfoot Frankie Sinkwich and Charlie Trippi to the contrary notwithstanding.

Cite Auburn Game

You have to listen to their argument, too, about a team with a stout running attack stopping the Georgia. They come up with this: Auburn 27, Georgia 13. Auburn gained 355 yards on the ground, didn't complete a single pass and held Georgia to 37 yards rushing and 190 passing.

In rebuttal, Georgia has this to offer: Five passes were dropped, three in the end zone, that would have pulled the game out of the fire. One member of the Georgia contingent thinks Auburn, on its game that day, would have beaten anybody. Potentially, Auburn had a great team.

Strictly in its own behalf Georgia cites the record: 2,661 yards gained rushing, 2,291 passing; average gain, 429.5 per game.

Cravath Impressed

Jeff Cravath, University of Southern California coach, also looked at Sinkwich and the Georgia team as they went through a light scrimmage. Said Jeff: "When! They look plenty good to me. They're fast and big. I hope somebody has warned Babe Horrell."

Said Sinkwich: "I feel pretty good. I missed one game as a sophomore because of a sprain. I'm going to play against UCLA. It's my last game for Georgia, and maybe you think I don't want it to be a good one."

To Elect Walk PSEA President

Harrisburg, Dec. 29 (AP)—The Pennsylvania State Education association's election of officers was scheduled for today with Dr. George W. Walk, dean of Teachers College, Temple university, incumbent, the only candidate nominated for president.

The delegates of all five departments placed his name in nomination at sessions last night. Since the association's immediate past president always serves as first vice president, Dr. Levi Gilbert, present president will assume that office.

For second vice president, the only other office to be voted upon, two men were nominated. They are Kenneth L. Springer, York, and Dr. Fred P. Corson, Carlisle, president of Dickinson college.

At sessions yesterday, Roscoe L. West, president of the New Jersey State Teachers' college and C.A.A. consultant, told delegates that educational practices should be adapted to meet the age of the airplane.

The New Jersey college head said more arithmetic, skill in self-ex-

SAYS BENNETT WILL HEAD NEW LIQUOR BOARD

Philadelphia, Dec. 29 (AP)—The Philadelphia Record says today that Governor-elect Edward Martin will appoint Claude Henry Bennett, president of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel company, as chairman of the Pennsylvania state Liquor Control Board.

The present chairman is Frederick T. Gelder, Susquehanna county newspaper publisher and former state senator.

As the report was published, the Philadelphia Restaurant Liquor Licensees association asked Philadelphia legislators to investigate the liquor board immediately after the Legislature convenes next month.

A shortage of low-price liquors here during the pre-Christmas buying season was due, the association charged, to "a negligent, short-sighted and incompetent Liquor Control Board."

The Record says that Bennett will be named to succeed Gelder immediately after Martin is inaugurated on January 19 and that the other board member, W. Worrel Wagner, also will be replaced.

In addition, the paper says, the new Governor will fill a board vacancy left unfilled by Governor James.

The Record mentions as possible appointees Arthur Coiegrove, Corry newspaper publisher, a Democrat who Martin supported in the gubernatorial campaign, and Warren S. Roberts, of Bethlehem, Democratic leader of Northampton county, which Martin carried. One of the three board posts, the paper explains, will go to a Democrat.

Memberships on the board carry $10,000 salaries.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

THE LARGER SACRIFICE

Mother, you are very strong; very strong and very brave.

When shall come the victory you may boast: "A son I gave!"

But there will be others here, silent to life's distant end.

Who will envy you your pride, for they have no son to send.

Do you miss him now away? Is his room still tidy kept?

Think of all the empty rooms where no boy has ever slept?

Are you heavy-hearted now? There are some you surely know?

Who would proudly share your grief, could they have a boy to go.

Mother, these are anxious times; day and nights of doubt and dread.

But the ones who calmly sleep would prefer your restless bed.

You are very frightened now, but the anguish that you bear

Is a glory they must miss who have only coins to share.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

GAIETY OF HEART

Many used to look upon the poet Whitman as an idler for sitting in parks and riding the top of Fifth Avenue buses, and wandering here and there, as though careless of time. But I wonder who ever saw so much?

In writing to a street-car conductor friend of his, whom he addressed as "Pete," Whitman told of the inner joy of these simple excursions that allowed his fancy to "soar away into the colors of the sunset." Nothing seemed to him insignificant. "You see everything as you pass," he wrote. "A sort of living, endless panorama — shops, and splendid buildings, and great windows: On the broad sidewalks crowds of women, richly dressed, continually passing, altogether different, superior in style and looks from any to be seen anywhere else—in fact a perfect stream of people. You will not wonder how much attraction all this is on a fine day, to a great loafer like me, who enjoys so much seeing the busy world move by him."

But from all this wandering and idling, Walt Whitman created the material for his undying book—"The Leaves of Grass."

It is a very important thing, at a time like the present, when the world is aflame with war and accumulating hates, to pay attention to the simple things of life, the ones that feed the inner consciousness and bring beauty to one's eyes, mellowing the heart.

I have a little book which contains material found among the papers of a soldier killed upon the battlefield of the last world war. The book is called "Waste Paper Philosophy," and these talks were written for his boy—a boy perhaps now in this second world war. The brief pieces were beautifully written and expressed the inner thoughts of a man who looked beyond all wars.

This inner joy is a mystery to many who have never known it, yet all may know it. Tolstoy tells of his hero in "War and Peace"—Peter, who is supposed to be the richest man in the Russian empire. But when he comes face to face with hunger, and all the comforts of a former life have been swept away, with himself as a prisoner of war, he then sees the significance of the humble and elemental values, thus discovering what there is to the inner joy, devoid of all pretense and display.

The rich young ruler who came to Jesus recognized a lack of this inner joy, and so sought it. But when he was told to sell all, and then to come and follow Jesus, he went away disappointed and unhappy. There is nothing material about the gaining of this inner joy.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Evasion."

Liberty Ship To Be Named For Governor Curtin

THREE SCHOOL CHILDREN TO PARTICIPATE

Harrisburg, Dec. 29 (AP)—Three

Pennsylvania school children will pay homage to their state's Civil War governor when they christen a new Liberty ship as the "Andrew Gregg Curtin" at ceremonies next month in a Baltimore shipyard.

Frank R. Fish, chairman of the School Salvage committee for the State Council of Defense, said today names of the children will be announced within a week. The three Pennsylvania schools contributing the most scrap iron per pupil in the recent school children salvage collection campaign will be permitted to send one representative each to the launching, slated for the plant of Bethlehem-Fairfield, Inc., at a date to be fixed by U. S. maritime commission.

Selected by Committee

The name of the ship was selected from recommendations made by the pupils who took part in the scrap drive. Judges for the name contest were Governor James, Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction, and William N. Hardy, manager of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers association.

The judges said the name of former Governor Curtin, a native of Bellefonte, won out over that of Daniel Dobbins, Erie, supposed to have built the fleet with which Oliver Hazard Perry fought the Battle of Lake Erie, and of Conrad Weiser, one of the founders of the City of Reading.

Former Governor Curtin was born April 23, 1815, graduated from the law school at Dickinson college, at Carlisle, and entered politics in 1844 when he campaigned for Henry Clay. In 1848, and again in 1852, Curtin's name was on the Whig electoral ticket.

Expired in 1894

In 1855, he became secretary of the commonwealth and ex-officio superintendent of schools. The Republican convention of 1860 nominated him for governor and a few months later he easily won the election.

"Curtin's firm stand for the national union, vehemently declared in his inaugural address in January, 1861," says the Pennsylvania Historical commission, "retorted shaken confidence among people of all northern states. When the war broke, a few months later, it was Pennsylvania under the leadership of Governor Curtin that came to the immediate and active support of the federal government."

Worn out with wartime duties, the Governor fell ill in the summer of 1863 about the time of the Battle of Gettysburg, but was re-elected and served for the rest of the war.

He died at Bellefonte on October 7, 1894.

TOJO OF TOKYO WARNS PEOPLE OF DRAB DAYS

By GLENN BABB

General Hideki Tojo, the grim little militarist who presides over Japan's government, never has been one to promise his people an early and easy victory, but he gave them an unusually stiff dose of realism yesterday. "The real war is starting from now" was the theme of his report, as war minister, to the annual session of parliament and he added details to back up his warning that the Japanese can expect no repetition of the brilliant series of victories that came last winter to surpass their most sanguine dreams.

It is a long time now since Tojo had a real victory to announce and the tone of his speech indicates that he felt it necessary to prepare the public mind for a new phase of the war. For the last three weeks the Tokyo propaganda machine has been providing a diet of anniversaries to appease the national appetite for good news. Pearl Harbor, Wake Island and Hongkong all were recalled at great length and in colorful and not very accurate detail as those dates rolled around.

Not Good Fare

But that is not very satisfactory fare and although the supply will last for three or four months longer, corresponding to those black months of 1942 when the military fortunes of the United States and the United Nations were at the lowest ebb, it will not last forever. So Tojo, the member of the military clique responsible for keeping the nation in line, thought it time to prepare the people for a dreary period when there is likely to be little in the news to make war's burdens lighter.

Last winter short rations, shoddy, inadequate clothing, unheated homes and casualty lists were made supportable by the exhilarating tidings from the Philippines, Malaya and the Dutch East Indies. But a great empire is not to be conquered every year and Japan never will know another winter like that of 1941-42. Not even the additional food and other supplies which Tojo asserts—probably with considerable exaggeration—are being brought home from the territories won a year ago can compensate for the drabness of the phase of the war that lies ahead for Japan.

Defensive Phase

It will be a defensive phase, with all effort concentrated on the holding of spoils already won. Tojo's references to India and Siberia were implied admissions that the period of fresh conquests is over. Japan's hope now lies in battling for every foot of soil on the far off fringes of her new empire, praying that the war in Europe will last long enough and that the price she exacts for Allied gains in the Pacific area will be high enough to produce a war weariness in her enemies which will make possible the stale-

Miners Asked To Take Day Holiday

Harrisburg, Dec. 29 (AP)—The commonwealth today asked Pennsylvania anthracite miners to take only a one-day holiday for the New Years celebration to assure an adequate supply of coal for domestic use and war industries.

Mine Secretary Richard Maize made the appeal, declaring that many worked on three days during Christmas week "and as a result production fell off considerably below that necessary for current demands."

Maize said the federal government in furtherance of the war effort had asked operators and miners to increase anthracite production and specifically requested collieries to work at least five days this week.

He also pointed out a similar plea was made at the December 28 meeting of the Pennsylvania Anthracite committee which was set up by the state to control production and stabilize the industry during the lean years.

mate which would in fact be a great victory for her. But that kind of a holding, defensive war produces little news to keep popular enthusiasm alive. Tojo knows that the home front is likely to become the most dangerous of all fronts in the months ahead.

India, he admitted, no longer is a prospective addition to the Mikado's domains but rather the base where General Wavell's Army of a million men is preparing, with steadily increasing power to seize the initiative in southeastern Asia. Japan's Kwantung Army, the cream of her armed forces, has been strengthened in its positions along the Soviet Siberian border "so that the undisturbed progress of the eastern Asiatic war is guaranteed." In other words, Japan hopes that Russia will leave her alone; she has enemies enough. It would be naive to take Tojo entirely at his word, but it may well be that in that passage he recorded a momentous decision of the army clique of which he is spokesman, to avoid trouble with Russia if it possibly can be done.

STATE WORKER ASKS BACK PAY

Harrisburg, Dec. 29 (AP)—An action to recover $300 in back salary which a state employee says is due him seemed likely to bring before the courts a difference of long-standing between Secretary of Labor and Industry Lewis G. Hines and the Social Security administration over operations of the Unemployment Compensation bureau.

Andrew M. Heikes, York, an employee of the bureau, asserts in the action that the sum is coming to him for services as an accountant in the bureau. His attorney, Sidney G. Handler stated last night that Heikes had been promoted by Hines in September, 1940, but later his demotion was ordered by the Social Security administration.

Hines, who is named defendant in the suit with the Pennsylvania fiscal officers, later was ordered by the state Board of Review to which Heikes had appealed, to restore the York man to his old post and salary. Handler says Heikes has continued to do the work of accountant, but has received the pay of a record clerk.

Handler declared that Heikes was told by Hines that he could not

Seek Increase In Price Of Gas

Philadelphia, Dec. 29 (AP)—Philadelphia's 3,000 service station operators want a two-cents-a-gallon increase in the retail price of gasoline.

A. Reed Engle, president of the Associated Gasoline Retailers of Philadelphia, sent the request to the Office of Price Administration. He said "the price boost is necessary to compensate for the loss of business due to recent cuts in gas ration coupon values."

The proposal for an increase, Engle said, is supported by the Eastern Seaboard Conference of Gasoline Dealers, which has 80,000 members from Maine to Florida.
